Vayyaqhel
(and assembled)

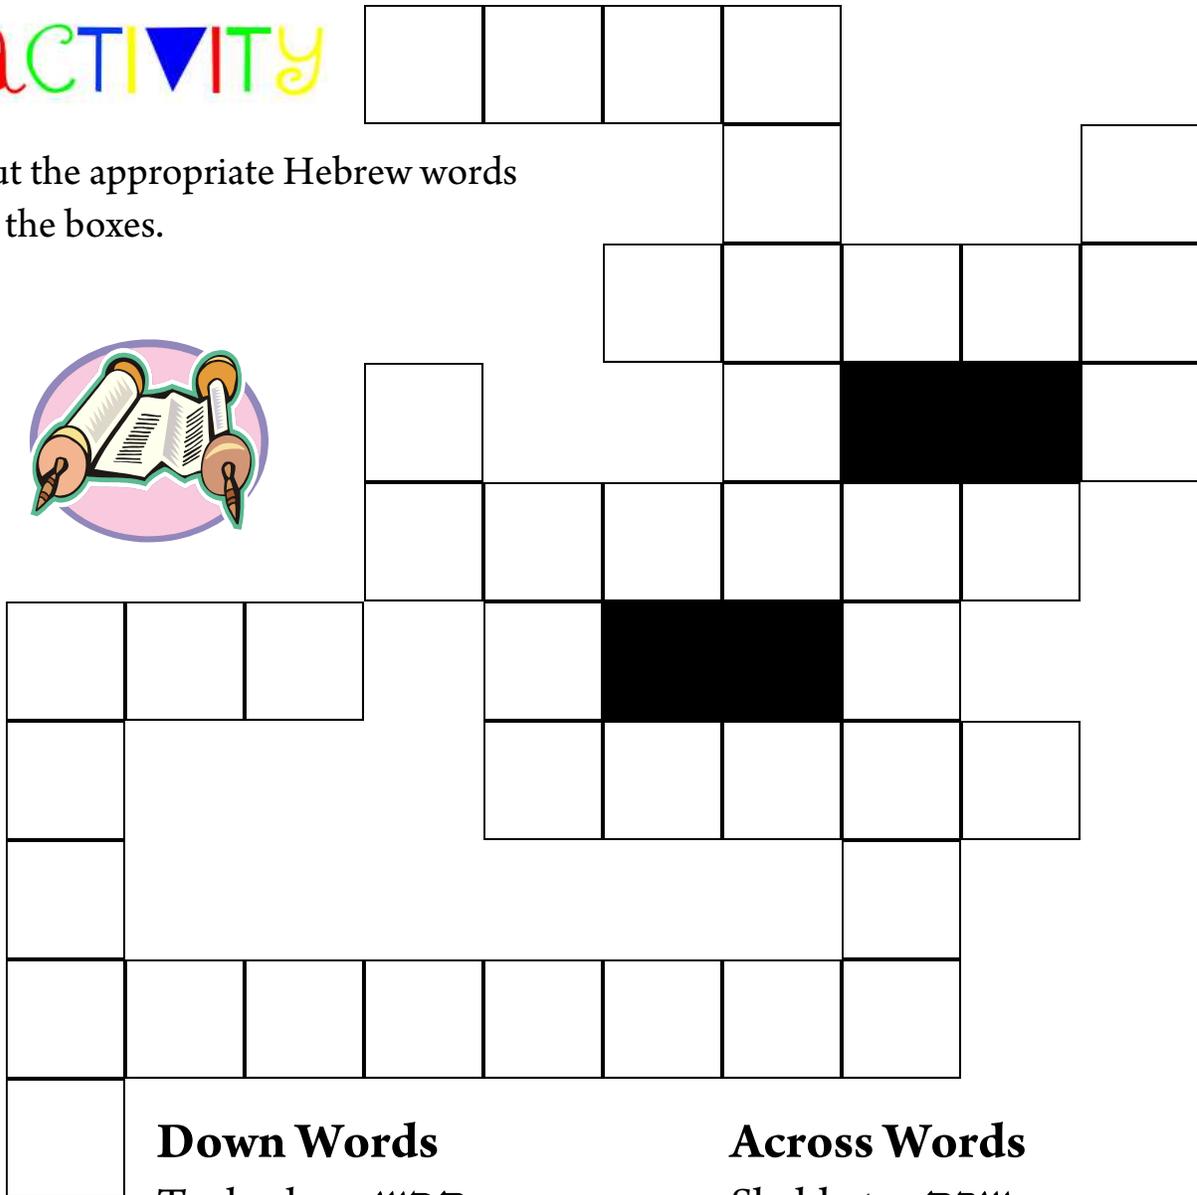

YHWH commanded Israel through Moshe to give an offering so that the work of building the mishkan could be done. They were commanded to give gold, silver, and copper. Along with these precious metals they were to give blue, purple, and scarlet linen, as well as rams' skins which were red, and tachash skins. They were also to give shittah wood. YHWH also asked them to give oil for lighting the menorah that they were to make, and all kinds of spices and fragrant incense. They were also to give all kinds of precious stones for the ephod and also onyx stones.

The people gave so much stuff that there was more than enough to complete all the work which YHWH had commanded to be done through Moshe. Moshe had to tell the people to stop giving.

YHWH then put His Spirit into the people who were to do all this work. He especially put His Spirit into Betzal'el and Oholiav. These two men were in charge of getting all this work done and YHWH gave them special knowledge on how to do everything so that it was done according to the exact pattern which YHWH had shown to Moshe upon Mount Sinai.
